King George and Queen Mary Greeted by Cheering Subjects and Officials

Stay at Palace Will Be Brief; Rulers to Pay Visit to European Court

LONDON, Feb. 5.—King George and Queen Mary returned to England today from the most memorable journey ever undertaken together by a king and queen of Great Britain and Ireland.

After an absence of three months, during which they had been crowned emperor and empress of India, and had received the homage of many of their princely vassals in the vast eastern empire, they were given a hearty welcome back to London.

Their present stay in the British Isles will be only a short one, as they are due to pay a round of state visits to European courts this spring and summer.

After breakfasting on board the Medina, with Queen Mother Alexandra, the Prince of Wales and the other royal children, their majesties landed and were saluted by the guns of the forts around Portsmouth. On the quay were drawn up guards of honor of bluejackets and soldiers who presented arms, while a military band struck up the strains of the national anthem.

INSPECTS GUARD.

The king inspected the guard of honor and then boarded a special train in which he, with the queen and the royal children, traveled to London, through country covered with snow. All the stations along the route were decked with flags.

A large assemblage of notables was waiting at Victoria station, when the train pulled in soon after midday. An archway bearing the words, "Welcome Home," in gold lettering on a blue ground, was erected across the platform where their majesties alighted.

Premier Asquith, with other members of the cabinet, were the first to greet the king and queen. Then came a group of members of the diplomatic corps and prominent officers of the navy and army in brilliant uniforms. The lord mayor and the sheriffs of London and the lords mayor of the principal cities of the British Isles, all wearing their regalia, also were present to welcome their majesties.

PROCESSION FORMED.

When the greetings were over a procession of five royal carriages was formed. The king and queen, with the Prince of Wales and Princess Mary, occupied the first carriage, which was drawn by four horses. With its escorts of life guards in their brilliant uniforms, with shining breast plates and helmets and floating plumes, the procession proceeded to Buckingham palace, passing through Victoria street to Parliament square and then along Whitehead and the Mall, through streets roaring with loyal cheers.

Religious service of thanksgiving for the safe return of the king and the queen from the first visit ever paid by reigning sovereigns of Great Britain and Ireland to their Indian possessions will be held this afternoon in Westminster Abbey, and the churches throughout the British Isles.

Holds That the Auto Law Is Constitutional

FRESNO Judge Would Hold Intoxicated Person Who Drives Machine.

FRESNO, Feb. 5.—In an oral opinion delivered from the bench today Judge H. Z. Austin, of the superior court, holds that the new state law making it a felony for an intoxicated person to drive an automobile when an accident is caused thereby, is constitutional. In denying Judge Austin differs with Superior Judge Birdseye of San Bernardino, and admits the fact.

He declares that an automobile as a vehicle is in a class by itself. He says the horse has instinct to guide it and street cars run on rails that keep them in certain path, but an automobile's course depends altogether on the driver. He held that automobile law is not class legislation.

The decision arose out of a case wherein Stanley James, a local chauffeur, is charged with a felony after running down and injuring a man while in a state of alleged intoxication.

WESTBOUND OVERLAND WRECKED

Locomotive Jumps the Track and Topples Over on Its Side

Passengers Escape Injury, but Four Members of Train Crew Are Hurt

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 5.—The big consolidated Mallet engine drawing over the Overland Limited No. 1, westbound, tipped over at Applegate this morning, a point 42 miles east of Sacramento on the main line at the Southern Pacific railroad.

Engineer C. C. Brown, brakeman Cook and the fireman were injured. Brown seriously. Only the engine and the dynamo car went into the ditch and the passengers escaped with only a severe shaking up.

The stretch of track near Applegate is one of the most dangerous on the Southern Pacific system, being a steep descent, and the Mallet engine, which are being used for the first time on the coast have been giving the trainmen considerable trouble.

The wreck will not delay traffic as the road is double tracked at this point. Engineer Brown was later found pinned beneath the cab of his locomotive in an unconscious condition. He was badly crushed and it is believed that he is fatally injured. Fireman W. C. Clark and brakeman Cook were slightly bruised.

Four victims of the wreck were brought to Sacramento on train No. 9 this afternoon and taken to the Westworth Hospital. C. C. Brown, the engineer, is badly scalded and severely bruised but it is believed he will recover. W. C. Clark, fireman, has a wound on his head and one hip dislocated.

James Cook, brakeman, is believed to be hurt internally. Allan Johnson, negro porter, is suffering with a wrecked back. Dr. Rooney, said "later that all four would recover."

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5.—Engineer C. C. Clark is missing, and the fireman and a brakeman were slightly injured in the wreck of the Overland Limited, today near Applegate. No passengers were hurt.

Advices to the company's general office here say the locomotive and dynamo car left the rails one mile east of Applegate, the engine rolling down the embankment while the dynamo car was dragged across the track. The other cars did not leave the rails.

Committee 'Fires' Official Reporter

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 5.—The Lorimer senatorial investigating committee today summarily dismissed Milton Blumenberg, its official reporter, because of his conduct at the hearing on Saturday night.

Pending the disposition of the contempt charges against him, Blumenberg will be held as a committee witness. He is also an official reporter of the proceedings of the senate, but it is said will not be employed there until the charges are cleared.

Blumenberg created a sensation by charging that the stenographic notes of an alleged confession of Charles McGowan, a Hines-Lorimer witness had been faked by the stenographer in the employ of a restrictive agency.

Blumenberg's charge declares his outburst was caused by a nervous breakdown brought on by overwork and there was some doubt last night as to whether he would be able to appear today.

'SIN'S WAGE HELL ON EARTH'

Friends Heard Despairing Cry
of Mrs. Noble When She Discovered Her Mistake
Elopers Made Suicide Pact
Month Ago; Tried to Poison
Themselves Before

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—The suicide pact which caused Mrs. Louise Lawrence Snydam and Frederick Noble to end their lives yesterday by gas asphyxiation, is believed to have been entered into within a few days after their marriage, a month ago. The couple were found dead in their apartment on West Twelfth street, lying in front of a gas range. All the jets of the range were open.

Death closed a romance which began five months ago, when Mrs. Snydam fled from her millionaire husband's home at Blue Point, L. I., with a young Noble. Snydam obtained a divorce and the eloping couple then married.

Cried friends of Mrs. Snydam say that they were not really happy together and that, in fact, they really never loved each other. Noble, too, showed that he had grown discouraged. Mrs. Noble, her friends say, felt that she had never really loved anyone except her husband, Walter Lispenard Snydam, and that once Noble heard her say in the presence of callers:

"LAW IS RIGHT."
"My friend, you and I and Fred may laugh sometimes at old things like the law and religion, when they say 'Thou shalt not.' We think that perhaps that was written for old fogies. But, my friends, there comes to all of us, sometimes the knowledge that the law and religion are right. What they say we shall not do we cannot do without suffering. I have learned that. Also, the wages of sin is death. It's worse than death—it's hell on earth."

The police say today that the young couple undoubtedly made a previous, but unsuccessful, attempt at suicide last week, by taking poison. A physician told the officers he had been called in and found that Noble had taken some drug and that Mrs. Noble looked pale and ill herself.

Mrs. Noble is believed to have sought, even after her marriage with Noble, a reconciliation with her former husband, Walter Snydam, and to have told him of the fearful mistake she made in running away with the young plunger.

Mrs. Noble will be buried in Philadelphia in the family plot of an aunt. Noble's body will be shipped to Patchoque, L. I., for burial.

Portion of Mrs. Linda
B. Hazzard.

SEATTLE, Feb. 5.—Mrs. Linda Burfield Hazzard, the Seattle "starvation doctor," was found guilty of manslaughter by a jury in the Kitsap County Superior Court, at Port Orchard last night for having caused the death by starvation of Miss Claire Williamson, an English heiress, who underwent Mrs. Hazzard's fasting treatment.

The penalty for manslaughter is an indeterminate term in the penitentiary of from one to twenty years. The court has not set the date for passing sentence.

The jury was out more than twenty hours. The jurors would not discuss the balloting, but it was learned that only one formal ballot was taken, that upon which the verdict of guilty was returned. Several preliminary verbal ballots were used until the jurors agreed.

On the first of these five votes for murder in the first degree, one for manslaughter and two refused to express an opinion. The five who voted for a first degree verdict stood firm until the last, when they, too, agreed to manslaughter.

CONSTRUCTION COMPANY IS SUED FOR $25,000

Samuel Fisher brought suit this forenoon in the Superior Court against the Contra Costa Construction Company for $25,000 damages for personal injuries. He alleges in his complaint that on December 1, 1910, while he was doing sewer work in Howard street, San Francisco, for the defendant corporation, a heavy iron bucket fell and struck him on the head, inflicting a scalp wound, causing concussion of the brain and fracturing his left shoulder and leg. Fisher says that he had to pay his own doctor and hospital bills and seek ambulance help amounting to $12,000 and that the injuries have permanently disabled him.

You can pay nothing in contemplation with a clear conscience if you use Chamberlain's Tablets. Many have been permanently cured by their use. For sale by Osgood Bros. drug store.

DIVISION ENGINEER APPLIES FOR MAPS

Loder Asks Supervisor to State County's Desire in Highway Matter.

A. E. Loder, division engineer of the state highways commission for this district, has asked the supervisors for maps showing what roads Alameda county desires to be taken over by the state and points where city jurisdiction terminates. The supervisors of Alameda county have communicated with the Alameda county board in reference to a counties building at the Panama-Pacific Exposition. Their attention will be called to the fact that when the supervisors of Alameda, Contra Costa and Santa Clara counties will confer on the subject of a tri-county exhibit.

J. A. Silva of Niles was granted a liquor license by unanimous vote of the board.

The matter of the application of Maud Drury of Decoto was continued until the next meeting of the board upon request of Attorney Koford who stated that at that time a new application would probably be filed. The saloon is now closed and numerous persons protested against a renewal of the license on the ground that the petition did not contain the proper signatures.

SUFFRAGE ADDS 79 COUNTY PRECINCTS

$8000 Is Added to Expenses
as Result of Women
Voting.

There will be 79 additional election precincts in Alameda county during the coming primaries, according to the report submitted by County Surveyor Haviland to the Supervisors today. His report was unanimously adopted. In all there will be 267 precincts as against 208 heretofore.

The change has been made necessary through the increased registration which includes women voters. It will entail an additional cost of approximately $8000, making about $40,000 to be expended on the election.

The board adjourned until Tuesday, February 13.

ORDINANCE GRANTS FRANCHISE RIGHTS

Fifty-Year Rights Over Arlington Road Granted by

An ordinance granting the Oakland Traction Company a fifty-year franchise over Arlington road between the northern boundary line of Berkeley and the county line was unanimously passed to print by the supervisors today upon recommendation of the road, bridge and franchise committee.

The bid, which was the only one submitted, was for $250. The franchise calls for the construction of a double-tracked electric road over a short stretch of territory controlled by the county.

Attorney Edward Engs appeared for the company and paid the amount of the bid.

SAYS WIFE FREQUENTED THE BARBARY COAST

On the ground that his wife spent most of her time running around with strange men and preferred the life of the Barbary coast to her domestic duties and husband's company, Battista Bordoli brought suit in the Superior Court this morning for a divorce from Quinta Bordoli. The couple were married in Italy in 1890 and have a minor child. Attorneys Gehring & Wyman appear for Bordoli.

BURGLARS ALWAYS BUSY IN OAKLAND

Police Hear of Three Robberies
After Tricks Have Been Turned.

The locker room of the Claremont Country club was broken into by burglars Saturday night and money and jewelry valued at $190 taken. The property stolen belonged to three prominent members of the club.

The men who lost valuables through the visit of the burglars were Thomas Knowles, of 385 Palm avenue; E. B. Braden, of 629 Oakland avenue, and H. B. Griffith, of 2636 Piedmont avenue, Berkeley. The loot consisted of money, watches, scarf pins, chains and rings.

Warning was recently issued to the officers of clubs and similar organizations of the operations of a burglar who makes a practice of working the clubs. The same man is believed to have robbed lockers at the Presidio and Ingleside clubs in San Francisco, and organizations in Los Angeles, Portland, Sacramento and Seattle.

A sneak thief grabbed a purse containing $25 from the hands of Mrs. W. Guitas of 335 Sixteen street, at Sixteenth and West streets, shortly before 8 o'clock last evening. The man disappeared so fast in the darkness that the woman was unable to get a description of him. Mrs. Guitas has reported the robbery to the police.

Surgical instruments and medicines, valued at $10, were stolen from the automobile of Dr. W. D. Huntington as it stood before the Elks' club last evening.

ORDER OF ISABELLA INSTITUTES COURT HERE

Court California, No. 159, Order of Isabella, which was instituted last evening in Moose hall, Twelfth street, is the latest acquisition to the fraternal organizations of this city. It is the second court of the Order of Isabella in California. The initiatory work was exemplified by the degree team of Court San Francisco, No. 133. The members of the company were assisted by Mrs. Mary S. Maguire who will act as president of the court.

The ceremonies of the evening were preceded by a banquet held in the Key Route Inn, where forty-five guests were seated at the table. Mrs. Maguire acted as toastmistress. Short addresses were delivered by members of the new court and the San Francisco visitors.

A preliminary meeting took place at the hall adjoining St. Augustine church, which was attended by many prospective members. Rev. Bernard J. McKinnon, pastor of the church, is spiritual director of the new court.

CANOVA SAILS FOR ITALY
TRIPOLI, Feb. 5.—General Canova, the Italian commander, left here yesterday for Italy. General Frangon is now in supreme command of the residents of the Hull house settlement on the West Side were called from their sleep early yesterday, when fire destroyed a portion of Bowen hall, one of the group of settlement buildings. Two floors of the building, which is a three-story structure, were burned. The hall was a gift to Hull from the Hull family.

The Scheme to Eliminate Needham.

It would be interesting to know who started the movement to export Hon. James C. Needham out of the Seventh district and transplant him in the Eleventh district. Mr. Needham apparently was not consulted about the arrangement and has no intention of carpet-bagging to make room for some other Congressional aspirant. There was a suspicion abroad that Chester Rowell hankered after the seat now occupied by Mr. Needham, but Rowell's paper, the Fresno Republican, has come out in opposition of the scheme to transport Needham across the Tehachapi, and endorses him for another term.

Rowell could not be nominated against Needham, and he could not be elected could Needham be induced to move out to make room for his budding Congressional ambition. Rowell's nomination would be equivalent to handing the Seventh district over to the Democrats.

We do not know that the Republican editor cherishes a desire to succeed Mr. Needham, and we have no proof that he inspired or sanctioned the suggestion that Mr. Needham betake himself to the Eleventh district for a further extension of political life. But Rowell is greedy for notoriety and official honors, and in his heart he has probably never forgiven Mr. Needham for his defeat for delegate to the national convention in 1908. It was the delegation from Stanislaus. Needham's home county, that gave Rowell his coup de grace on that occasion.

So, when we put the fact that Rowell is an aspirant for political honors together with his reason for harboring a grudge against Needham, there is good ground for suspecting that the scheme for getting Needham out of the Seventh district originated not far from the Republican office.

It is gratifying to learn that the scheme has fallen through, or rather, that it never had a chance to succeed, because of the refusal of the party of the first part to even consider it. Mr. Needham would probably be defeated for the nomination in the Eleventh district, and his removal would gravely imperil Republican success in the Seventh district. Rowell's nomination would make certain the loss of the district. The threatened loss of Mr. Needham from the Congressional delegation as well as Republican defeat in the Fresno district would be a double calamity in the present posture of affairs.

California needs Mr. Needham in Congress just now—needs him badly—for the tariff smashers are getting ready to attack this State's leading industries. As a member of the Ways and Means Committee Mr. Needham is in a position to resist the attack. He is an able debater, an experienced legislator, and thoroughly loyal to the doctrine of protection. Being the dean of the California House delegation, he has an influential voice in all matters of legislation affecting the interests of this State. To eliminate him and hand his district over to a Democrat or a half-baked, low-tariff Republican would be a misfortune to the State. It would weaken the California delegation and the cause of protection, which is of such vital concern to California producers.

Happily Mr. Needham cannot be scared or cajoled into leaving his district. He will stay where he is and go back to Congress with flying colors. The people of the Seventh district have not been Rowellized to the extent of deliberately sacrificing their own interests to gratify the ambition of a band of political bolomen.

Automobile speeding is perilous enough in daylight when everything is in plain view, but its peril is increased tenfold in a dense fog at night. The county boulevard is a broad, smooth highway, and is not dangerously crooked; it is one of the safest roads in the State to drive a machine over, but no road is safe to speed over in the night hours with a dense fog hanging over the land. No safeguards that society may erect can protect people from the consequences of carelessness and recklessness.

The Napa Hospital Scandal.

From the Stockton Independent we extract the following significant editorial comment:

"The story comes from Napa that Dr. Stone is to be 'let off.' Why should he be? If he has embezzled, as has been charged, where does the State administration get the authority to do this? Have they any authority to compound a crime? If this is done color will be given to the charge that it is only another political job to secure control of more patronage. The public is entitled to know all the facts in the matter and are not going to put up with any huffer-mugger. It is evident that the superintendent abused his trust, but whether to the extent of criminality is something that should be definitely shown."

We sincerely hope our Stockton contemporary is misinformed. John F. Neylan, the member of the Board of Control who investigated the Napa Hospital for the Insane, officially reported that Dr. Elmer E. Stone, the superintendent of that institution whose resignation was forced as a result of Mr. Neylan's inquiry, was guilty of criminal malfeasance; had embezzled public money and connived at grafting and various other irregularities. There was nothing equivocal about the charges presented in the Neylan report. They were direct and specific and in detail.

If Dr. Stone is guilty of the charges officially brought against him by Mr. Neylan, he has committed felony of a most flagrant kind. Is the law to be satisfied by allowing the criminal to resign and restore a part of the money stolen from the State? If that is the arrangement in this case, why should any public official be prosecuted for theft and malfeasance?

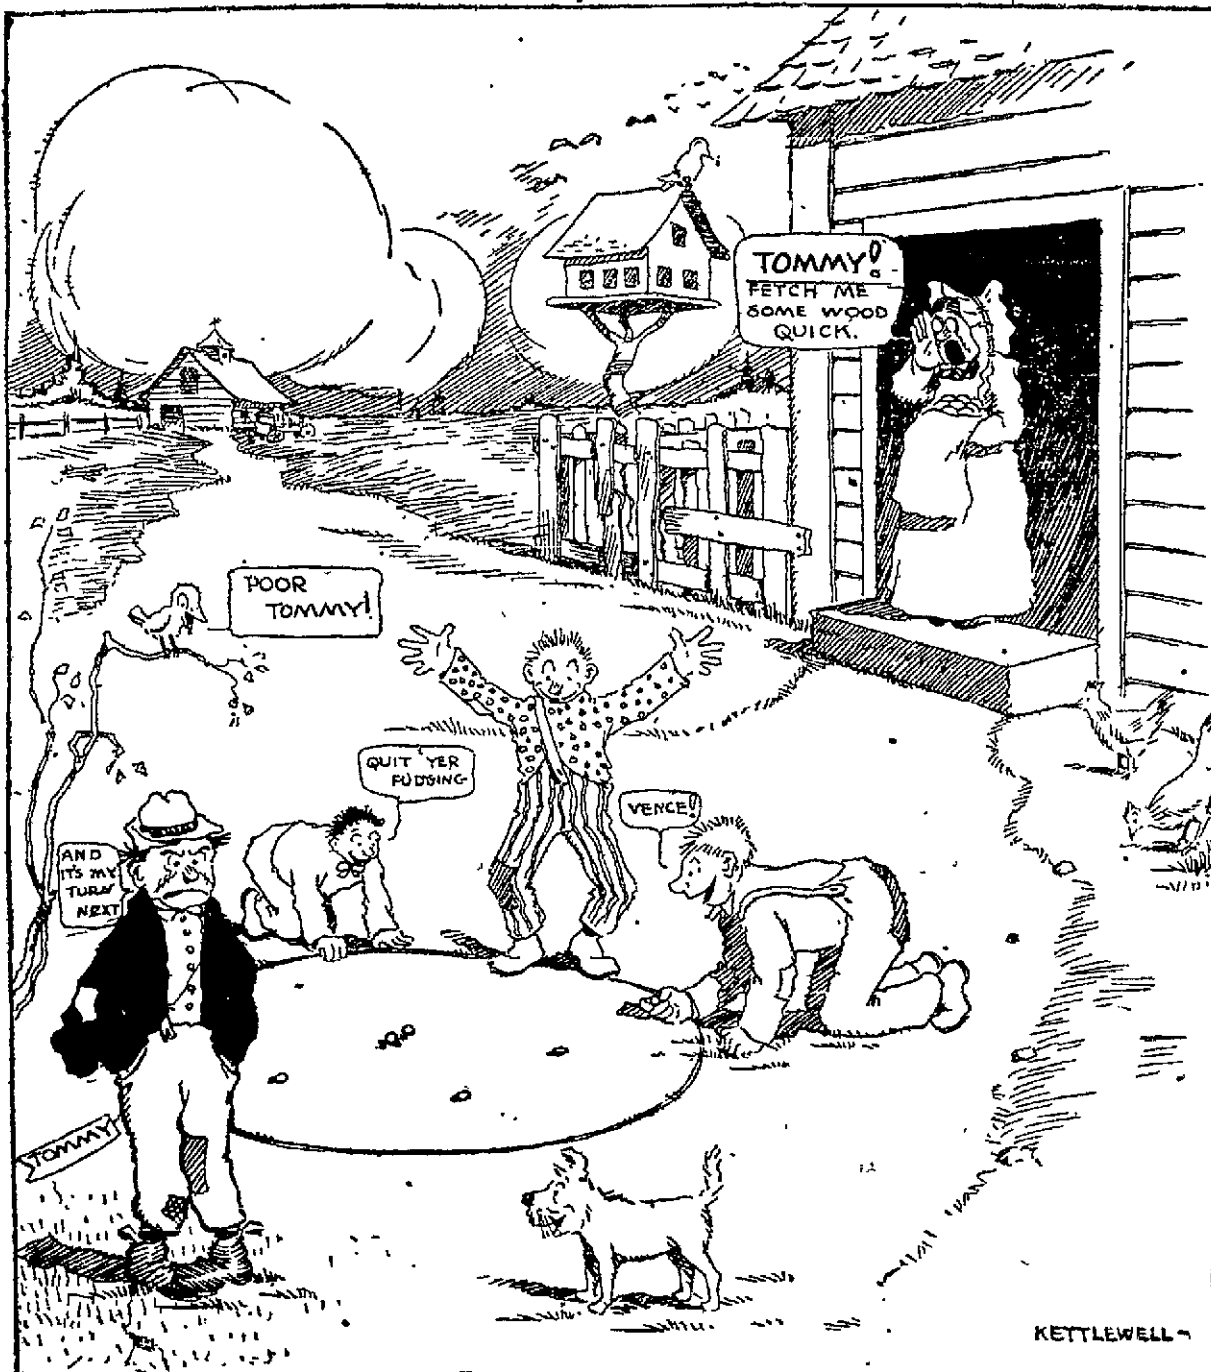

After Mr. Neylan filed his report, Dr. Stone said he had been promised immunity and accused Neylan of breaking faith with him. Neylan indignantly denied giving a promise of immunity. But what are the people to think if the matter is allowed to drop here? Will they not be justified in concluding that the patronage of the Napa Hospital was all that the Board of Control was after, and that the charges against Stone were made to justify the board in forcing him and a majority of the trustees to resign?

If Dr. Stone is guilty of the offense charged he should be prosecuted and punished. If he is innocent, he should be vindicated. In any event the people are entitled to know the facts. If Mr. Neylan has made false charges against Stone, the public should be acquainted with the fact and the reasons therefor.

Nothing should be hushed up or concealed. The issue is not one of veracity between Stone and Neylan, but a grave question of public policy, of impartial administration of the law and of criminal maladministration in a State institution. It is not a question of partisan politics or the dispensation of patronage.

Woodrow Wilson's friends are finding it hard work to make people look upon the loss of Colonel Harvey's and Colonel Waterman's support as a discharged liability. Dr. Wilson's letters of apology to Colonel Harvey do not indicate that he regards it in that light.

REAL MISERY

OAKLAND TRIBUNE CARTOONIST.

The Milk in the Coconut.

San Francisco is confronted with the alternative of increasing her tax rate or increasing the assessed valuation of property. She must have more revenue. At present her assessed valuation is high and the tax rate $2.03 on the $100 valuation. Moreover, she needs a larger valuation on which to base bond issues for a variety of projected improvements of a costly character.

There is here perhaps an explanation of the sudden revival of the scheme to annex the cities on the Alameda shore. The eagerness of San Francisco to grab the territory of her neighbors is not altruistic. The motive is not philanthropic—far from it—and the assumed friendliness under which it covers itself is but a mask. San Francisco wants to use the property on this side of the bay for bonding and taxing purposes.

There is another reason. The water front of San Francisco is owned and administered by the State. Oakland owns her own water front—every foot of it, and she is improving it at her own expense to accommodate ocean shipping. She is constructing wharves and docks where ship and car can meet at the water's edge under conditions which facilitate the handling and transshipment of freight at the lowest cost.

San Francisco would like to take control of Oakland's water front and assume direction of its improvement. The object then would not be to bring ocean shipping to this side of the bay, but to force it to seek accommodations on the San Francisco side. Our own guns would be turned against us. Instead of controlling our own affairs for our own benefit, others would control them for their benefit.

Oakland regained possession and control of her water front after a long struggle covering a period of many years, and now that she has begun to improve it San Francisco asks that it be surrendered to her. For what purpose it is easy to imagine. When our water front was claimed by private parties and involved in litigation San Francisco took no interest in it or the affairs of Oakland. Then the water front was not being improved and was not open to all shipping and rail interests on equal terms.

But it's different now. The prodigious growth of this city, coupled with the improvements projected on the water front, have provoked cupidity and jealousy across the bay. Hence the annexation conspiracy and the furtive means adopted to further it.

The attempt to stampede the Cook county (Chicago county seat) for Roosevelt is a significant sign of the times. Its complete failure is equally significant. Taft's overwhelmingly endorsement is the most significant of all.

A great majority of Americans agree with Mr. Bryan that no President should have more than two terms. A majority almost as large are opposed to Mr. Bryan having one term.

PROSPERITY AND DIVORCE

When the statisticians of the country haven't anything else to do they get out their tables and adding machines and dash off a few intellectual sparks on the divorce problem, and then can prove with equal ease and convincence that this, that, or the other thing causes marital unhappiness, or promotes domestic tranquility. The divorce proctor of Kansas City announced not long ago that poverty was the great cause of this evil, as he was prepared to show, but scarcely had he begun when he was interrupted by the reading public when along came Professor William H. Bailey of Yale University, with a neatly fabricated set of observations which, he claimed, proved conclusively that poverty has been responsible for the severance of so many marriages.

Professor Bailey finds that the divorce rate in the United States is on the increase. In 1907, he states, there were 8472 divorces and in 1908 12,062. In 1909 there were 16,000 divorces. In 1900 of population, while in 1908 there were 24,000,000. He reports, as a result of his observations, that in periods of commercial depression the increase in divorce is less than in periods of prosperity, and that adversity tends to strengthen family ties.

SERMONS IN BRIEF

LEARN TO DO WELL—LIVING AS A FINE ART.

(By Rev. F. S. Brush, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Alameda.)

The prophet Isaiah says: "Learn to do well." (Is. 1:17). What gives his words further point is that his exhortation concludes a scathing denunciation of their punctiliousness about religious rites while careless of their conduct. Religion is a means to an end, but when made an end in itself becomes pharisaism and hypocrisy. "Wash ye and be clean, cease to do evil," is the injunction of Isaiah just preceding our text. The religion of Christ has produced the most perfect and the most beautiful character the world has seen. This is the proof of its divine origin. The only argument worth having for Christianity is a Christian.

But it is too often assumed that the character of the Christian is somehow born with him without effort on his part. This is the cause of the poor standards of Christian conduct that are the scandal of the Church and that do far more to create unbelief than all the books ever written against religion.

The proper realization of Christian ideals in conduct is the result of a patient, toilsome discipline. Learn to do well. We do not expect a carpenter or a musician to become proficient without the arduous practice that alone conditions perfection, or any approach toward perfection. We do not expect a man to be a good mechanic because his father was one; he may inherit a talent for mechanical skill, but only years of slow learning will bring the sure and masterful touch.

There is a sad lack in Christendom of patient, loving, determined "learning to do well." Character is not the result of a moment's inspiration, the first step toward a noble life may be made in a moment, and the resolution that is the doorway to such a life may come in some great hour of enthusiasm. But the resultant, the fine art of a finished and Christ-like life, is the harvest of many years of struggle, toil and tears.

We read that the Son of Man was perfected through suffering. His followers have some times deluded themselves that some easier way was open to them, that in some joyous hour of ecstasy they could become as angels without paying the price of personal denial, self-denial and equanimous application of Christ's teachings to their lives. Patient will-doing was the divine method in the One Perfect Life.

And so the Word had breath, and wrought with human hands the creed of creeds in lovefulness of perfect deeds.

Every Christian should seek with all his power and might to make his life as perfect as possible, to follow the injunction of the Apostle, "Adorn the doctrine of God our Savior in all things."

If this "beauty of the Lord" rest upon Christian people there would be much less unbelief in the world and a much happier and more useful Church.

TICKLED THE BISHOP

"The late Bishop Mackay-Smith," said a Philadelphian, "was the life of many a dinner party—a man as jolly as he was good." The bishop, at a dinner in Bittenhouse Square one night, was describing an old fisherman he had met in Gloucester. "Are you contented?" the bishop asked the old fellow. And the fisherman, taking his pipe from his mouth, replied: "I am contented through and through, etc., when I think of the glorious immortality to come."—Baltimore Sun.

NATION'S BENEFACTIONS

During the year 1911, it is estimated that benefactions by men and women of wealth aggregated the enormous sum of $150,000,000. Probably a majority of these gifts were to institutions of learning, to found libraries and for humanitarian institutions.

Few, if any, were dedicated to the end of solving or mitigating suffering arising from dire poverty. In all probability, the reason for this is because of the feeling among successful men and women that the problem is one too large to be solved merely by the mere granting of large sums of money.

A government expert, in a recent address in which he advocated international action to the end of developing a perfect race by scientific mating, advanced the view that the aim of modern benefactions was deleterious because it tended to nullify, in part, the ancient law of "the survival of the fittest."

He maintained that many persons physically or mentally inefficient who otherwise would pass away before the stern advance of modernism, are enabled to marry and rear large families, thus adding to the number of those who possess their undestorable characteristics.

This view, unquestionably, is extreme, but it typifies one phase of a subject so broad that it touches every well-spring of human emotion and embraces every experience of this and the preceding ages.

The generosity of the gifts to educational and humanitarian institutions by America's wealthy is evidence of the far-sightedness of our men and women of wealth. Their benefactions are not dictated so much by a spirit of charity as by a desire to assist in the development of conditions under which all people will have opportunity to enjoy the advantages of modern learning and advancement.

To give so that poverty would be alleviated and still maintain the spirited individualism of the masses would require a degree of special preparation by the giver that few, if any, of our busy modern multi-millionaires possess.

Some day, perhaps, this question may be solved, but until that time we may expect that benefactions will be directed along lines intended to promote the good of the many in conformity with the wisdom expressed in the old axiom that "God helps those who help themselves."—Seattle Times.

FORTY-SEVENTH STATE

New Mexico has beaten Arizona into the Union. It is to rank as the forty-seventh state, and from the historical point of view it is entirely appropriate that it should take precedence over Arizona, since New Mexico bears the name given to the ancient Spanish province acquired by the United States from Mexico, from which Arizona was struck off in 1883 for greater administrative convenience. Its territorial form of government has always been larger, and its application for admission to statehood came near being honored by congress as far back as 1875-78, when Colorado was ushered into the Union. New Mexico also had a narrow escape from coming in as a state in 1906, enlarged by the reabsorption of Arizona.

New Mexico will enjoy in its first year of statehood a larger representation in congress than will be allotted to it from and after March 3, 1913. It elected two representatives last November to serve in the sixty-second congress, but in the lower branch of the sixty-third congress it will have only one vote. This reverses the experience of most new states. Oklahoma had to be content with five representatives on admission in 1907, but gained three seats, and no newly created state in our time except New Mexico has seen its representation contracted after a brief exercise of larger power.

The Tribune said early last year that the fact of the income tax amendment to the federal constitution might be determined by the votes of New Mexico and Arizona. The legislatures of the two new commonwealths will be in session this winter and both are likely to pass on the amendment. Their admission will raise the three-fourths majority required from 35 to 36, and both vote for the amendment the number of states ratifying will be increased from thirty-one to thirty-three. The legislatures of Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New Jersey, Virginia, Louisiana and Vermont will have an opportunity to take further action on the amendment this year. But they are all disinclined to ratify, and it will probably be found, if the amendment is finally adopted, that its success was made possible through the approvals registered by Arizona and New Mexico. If New Mexico should decline to ratify, Arizona's vote would be merely offset, and the status quo existing before the passage of the dual statehood act would remain unchanged.—New York Tribune.

20 YEARS AGO IN OAKLAND

The wedding of Dr. C. Fischl and Miss Minna Dohrmann, daughter of F. W. Dohrmann, will take place at the family residence in Alameda on Tuesday morning, February 26. Only members of the family will be present.

The engagement is announced of Miss Florence E. Hulford of this city and James E. Smith, also of Oakland, and Miss Eugene de M. K. Gurnette of Berkeley, and of A. B. Tennant of Oakland and Miss Carrie L. Burdick of Michigan. The wedding of Miss Susie Davis and Frank W. Wright will take place in June.

George C. Baker, the well known real estate dealer, and Miss Fannie Coolidge, were married on Tuesday evening last. Owing to the recent death of the bride's father, the wedding was a very quiet one. Eddie Williams, aged 6 years, was assaulted yesterday and robbed of a toy balloon by a half dozen Chinese lads. Blood flowed from the little fellow's nose and had it not been for the interference of friends, he would have been seriously injured.

William H. Cahill, a painter, has brought suit against J. J. Gostman for $10,000 because, he claims, the latter accused him of using "dope" instead of paint.

Invitations have been issued by Mrs. and Mr. H. G. Ellsworth of Miles for a reception for their son, Edward, and his bride on their return from Coronado, February 18.

Trusses Like These Are a Crime

Get Rid of Elastic Bands, Springs and Leg-Straps. Such Harness Has Forced Thousands to Undergo Dangerous Operations.

Trusses like those shown above—the belt and leg-strap, elastic and spring contraptions sold by drug stores, surgical instrument houses and many self-styled "Hernia Specialists"—make life miserable for everybody who wears them.

And—even when drawn so tight you can scarcely stand to keep them on—they do no good whatever.

Instead, they often do immense harm—they squeeze the rupture, often causing strangulation—dig into the pelvic bone in front—press against the sensitive spinal column at the back.

The Plain Truth Is This.

Rupture—as explained in our free book—can't be relieved or cured—can't even be kept from growing worse—unless constantly held in place. Just as a broken bone can't "knit" unless the parts are held securely together.

And—just as a bandage or splint is the only way a broken bone can be held—the right kind of truss is the only thing in the world that can keep a rupture from coming out.

What a difference it will make when you get that kind of truss.

And you can get exactly that kind of truss—without risking a cent of your money.

It's the famous Clutho Truss or Clutho Automatic Massager.

Far more than a truss—far more than merely a device for holding the rupture in place.

No different from everything else for rupture that it has received 18 separate patents.

Thousands say it is as comfortable as their clothing.

No belt, elastic band or springs around your waist, and no leg-strap—nothing to pinch, chafe, squeeze or bind. Self-regulating, self-adjusting. It is held in position by suction—no shift or slip—no chafe or irritation. It is a truss that is positively guaranteed never to let the rupture come out.

Try It 60 Days at Our Risk.

We have so much faith in the Clutho Truss—we have seen it work wonders for so many others—that we want to make one especially for your case and let you wear it at our risk.

DUCHESS OF MARLBOROUGH UNDER PHYSICIAN'S CARE

DUCHESS OF MARLBOROUGH, who is reported to be threatened with a serious nervous breakdown.

LONDON, Feb. 5.—The Duchess of Marlborough, who is threatened with a serious nervous breakdown, has gone to Cannes under her physician's orders, where she will remain six weeks to recuperate for the coming social season, when it is believed she intends to inaugurate a campaign to recover her former place in exclusive court circles.

Ever since the coronation the Duchess has engaged in many social and philanthropic movements, which is one method of gaining popularity with the King and Queen, and as a result her health is endangered. Evidence of the breakdown has been apparent since shortly before Christmas, her actions at times being most erratic and most unaccountable.

At that time she decided to go to Deauville, but immediately countermanded her orders and arranged to go to Brighton, then again changed her plans, booking passage for America on the Mauretania for the Christmas trip. She canceled the passage the day before sailing and remained in her town residence, Sunderland House, until Christmas eve, then suddenly went to Waldorf Astor's place, Cliveden, returning unexpectedly the next day.

The Duchess had by her wholehearted and practical interest in philanthropic affairs, won golden opinions from friends in the King's entourage, which insures the news reaching the royal ears.

If she does win her way to court it will be a distinct score against her husband, from whom she is as much estranged as ever, despite many overtures on his part for a reconciliation.

It is now recognized that she will not yield and he is apparently content to let matters rest as long as he receives his $100,000 so-called housekeeping allowance.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—An equal division of all the money in the United States would result in each person possessing $34.61. That amount is the per capita circulation, according to the calculation of the treasury department, which country has grown from $1,972,268, as determined by the census of 1910, to $4,958,000 on February 1, 1912.

The stock of money America is fast becoming a billion dollars. On February 1 there was $3,524,572,121 in the United States. Of this, $333,302,428 represented the assets of the government and $3,191,269,693 in circulation. Thirty-three years ago, the entire amount in circulation in this country was $316,256,721.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Feb. 5.—A party executed plot to steal three world famous paintings worth $250,000 from the T. B. Walker art gallery was frustrated on Saturday. A man was using a glass cutter on the glass enclosing the picture when the glass broke, a woman screamed and the thief rushed into a waiting automobile and made his escape. The paintings in question are "L'Appel Du Soldat" by Jules Bastien-Lepage, the Rembrandt-Peale portrait of George Washington and the Lefevre portrait of Napoleon.

VICTIM OF PTOMAIN POISON. NEEDLES, Cal., Feb. 5.—W. H. Vencil, a conductor on the Santa Fe, is dead, and another man is seriously ill as the result of what is believed to be ptomaine poisoning.

Los Angeles, Feb. 5.—A man was called to investigate the death of Vencil, expressed the opinion that poisoned food caused his death.

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 5.—W. R. Hearst announces that he has purchased the Atlanta "Georgian" of Atlanta, Ga., and made it a part of his chain of newspapers. The Georgian is the oldest and most widely known daily in the United States and from its beginning has been conspicuous for its independence. According to the announcement made by Mr. Hearst regarding "The Georgian" no changes are necessary in its character and habits to make it a member of the Hearst family of newspapers.

LOST LITERARY GEM FOUND AT WELLESLEY. BOSTON, Feb. 5.—The original manuscript of poems composed by Antonio Puro, a Florentine poet of the fourteenth century, which disappeared forty years ago, has been presented to the Italian government by Wellesley College. Prof. Margaret H. Jackson, head of the Italian department at Wellesley, identified it as the missing manuscript while engaged in cataloging contributions made to the college by George A. Plympton of New York seven years ago.

CUSTODIAN OF NATIONAL PARK SERIOUSLY ILL. CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—Major William J. Logan, custodian of the Glacier National Park in Montana, is seriously ill in the Presbyterian hospital here. His condition here was said by his physician to have improved and he probably will recover. He has been under treatment for several weeks.

STOMACH MISERY JUST VANISHES

No Indigestion, Sourness, Gas or Dyspepsia Five Minutes Later.

As there is often some one in your family who suffers an attack of indigestion or some form of stomach trouble, why don't you keep some Diapiesin in the house handy?

This harmless blessing will digest anything you can eat without the slightest discomfort, and overcome a sour, gassy stomach five minutes after.

Tell your pharmacist to let you read the formula, plainly printed on these 50-cent cases of Diapiesin. Then you will readily see why it makes Indigestion, Sour Stomach, Heartburn and other distress go in five minutes, and relieves at once such miseries as Belching of Gas, Eructations of sour, undigested food, Nausea, Headaches, Dizziness, Constipation and other stomach disorders.

Some folks have tried so long to find relief from indigestion and dyspepsia or an out-of-order stomach with the common, every-day cures advertised that they have about made up their minds that they have something else wrong. Believe there is a cure of Nervousness, Gastritis, Catarrh of the Stomach or Cancer.

This, no doubt, is a serious mistake. Your real trouble is, what you eat does not digest; indigestion, it ferments and turns to acid, Gas and Stomach poison, which enters the digestive tract and intestines, and besides poison the breath with nauseous odors.

A healthy appetite, with thorough digestion, and without the slightest discomfort or misery of the Stomach, is waiting for you as soon as you decide to try Diapiesin.

SEEK WITNESSES IN MOORE CASE

Expressman to Tell of Meeting Chauffeur's Victim in Road, Waving Pistol.

SAN MATEO, Feb. 5.—Additional witnesses are being sought in the J. J. Moore shooting episode and when S. R. Timothy has a preliminary hearing tomorrow Sheriff Joel Mansfield of San Mateo will present an expressman, C. A. Buck, who saw the wealthy merchant on El Camino Real during the exchange of the bullets.

Buck has given the authorities the information that Moore stopped him in the road when he was driving a rig by frantically waving a pistol at him. Buck thought he was at the mercy of a highwayman and after stopping for a few moments he drove hurriedly to his home in Burlingame.

It appears Buck made an unsuccessful attempt to see Timothy a week ago last Sunday. The chauffeur is a personal friend of Buck and as an employee of C. A. Buck of Hillsborough conducts the family relative to the country estate. In this capacity it was possible for him to give the expressman considerable business. So far Buck has declined to tell just what he knows about the tragedy. The authorities believe that it is possible Buck may have been accompanied by his family and they were the people that were mentioned in Timothy's original statement to Sheriff Mansfield.

MUST BE CONCLUSIVE. Unless the testimony of Timothy and Mrs. Lillian Moore proves conclusively that Moore attacked Timothy without provocation District Attorney Franklin Swat will insist at the preliminary hearing that the prisoner be held for murder.

Mrs. Moore has not given a good account of her actions covering the period from 2 p. m. until seen on the porch by Margaret Lena Behrman, her maid, shortly after 10 o'clock last Saturday night during the exchange of shots.

A question has arisen whether Mrs. Moore was in Timothy's car previous to the shooting, even though he declares she was not there at the time of the shooting. Timothy now declares that the engine of his car stopped short near the rear gate of the Moore residence, while other witnesses will be on hand to say the machine was opposite the main driveway of the Moore place.

The Rev. Alton Pratt of the Presbyterian Theological School at San Anselmo, who assisted in carrying Moore into the house, where he prayed for the dying man, and C. Tano, a Japanese boy who believed that he saw Mrs. Moore near the De Saba residence after the last shot, are among the new witnesses to be called at the preliminary hearing that did not testify at the inquest.

BANISHED BISHOP ON WAY TO EXILE

Czar Sends Recalcitrant Priest Into Retirement in a Palace Car.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 5.—The recalcitrant Bishop Hermogenes, who was dismissed from the Saratov diocese and exiled by order of the czar, left this morning for Zhukovskiy monastery, his place of banishment. He is making the journey in a drawing-room car and is escorted by several high police officials.

The reactionary priest, Hierodorus, the abbot of Tseretny, who also was ordered to be banished to a remote monastery in the government of Vladimir for championing the cause of Bishop Hermogenes, is still in hiding and an active search is being carried on by detectives to find out his whereabouts.

COLD INTENSE IN BRITAIN. LONDON, Feb. 5.—It is many years since the British Isles have experienced such a stress of weather as has besieged England. The snowstorm of yesterday, which has been sweeping over England for more than twelve hours, is perhaps the severest of the winter. In London the snow is eight inches deep. Water supplies in many parts of the island are frozen hard. Sheep and cattle have been frozen to death and other flocks and herds are starving for both water and fodder.

GIN FOR THE KIDNEYS. Gin is one of the oldest known remedies for kidney and bladder troubles, especially when used in the following formula: "Six ounces good pure gin; half ounce fluid extract Buchu; half ounce Muxa compound." Any druggist can supply or mix these ingredients and take each time and take in doses of one to two teaspoonfuls after meals and at bed time.

This is the most effective remedy known for the quick relief of kidney and bladder disorders. Such symptoms as backache, frequent or highly colored urine, rheumatic pains in the groin ought to have prompt attention to prevent Bright's disease or diabetes.

PRaises DICKENS AS 'MUCK-RAKER'

Rev. H. A. Jump Tells of Good Work Accomplished by the Author.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Every one of the 7,444,661,796 internal revenue stamps handled by agents of the federal government during the past two years has been properly accounted for, according to a report by Secretary MacVeagh to a committee appointed to make the bi-yearly examination of the vaults of the commissioner of internal revenue.

This vast number of stamps ranged in value from one-quarter of a cent to several hundred dollars. In the two years about seven billion stamps were issued to dealers in liquor, tobacco, oleomargarine, etc. The remainder, valued at $100,000,000, are in the vaults of the revenue bureau.

HAPPY RESULTS

Have Made Many Oakland Residents Enthusiastic.

No wonder scores of Oakland citizens grow enthusiastic. It is enough to make anyone happy to find relief after years of suffering. Public statements like the following are but truthful representations of the daily work done in Oakland by Doan's Kidney Pills.

Francis John House, 1306 E. Eleventh street, Oakland, Cal., says: "I can vouch for the correctness of the public statement given by a member of my family in August, 1907, in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills. This remedy was first brought to our notice many years ago and later on its great value in kidney complaint, a member of our family who suffered severely from this trouble, used it. In this case Doan's Kidney Pills acted promptly and effectively, and the difficulties that had caused so much distress, were removed. At this time I can say that there has been no recurrence of kidney trouble and the member of our family who used Doan's Kidney Pills still holds them in high esteem."

WOMEN IN THE NEWS

WOMAN SMOKES ON MARKET ST. CAR

Calmly Lights Cigarette on Front Platform; Refuses Assistance From Men.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5.—Passengers in a crowded Market street car were shocked and entertained at 6 o'clock yesterday evening when a fashionable young woman boarded the pay-as-you-enter vehicle, advanced to the front platform with her escort, and, after selecting a dainty cigarette from a jeweled case in her chatelet, proceeded to enjoy its fragrant fumes with the nonchalant air of a veteran smoker.

Her fellow passengers glanced, looked a second time and then stared, while the male slaves of the weed on the front platform volunteered to assist with everything from a match to the "makings."

The original maid refused to tell her name or that of her escort, but between inhalations expressed the opinion that modern woman's rights had given her the privilege of invading the compartment dedicated to Lady Nicotine.

"No, I am not trying to imitate Frau Dreischke," she said, "and I am not seeking notoriety. Women had to smoke second handed in street cars for a good many years and I can see no reason why they should not be permitted to indulge in the habit themselves as long as they do it in the proper place, as I am doing."

The curiosity of the crowd became so unpleasant that the young woman was forced to leave the car at Market and Colma streets, and, as she alighted, she glanced disdainfully at the other members of her sex who ridiculed her.

The unfortunate girl was the youngest daughter of Joseph J. Little, millionaire printer, former president of the board of education and at one time a representative in Congress.

Raymond Little, the noted tennis expert, a brother, is en route to New York with the body.

Leap Year War

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Feb. 5.—Marriage clubs have become a popular source of amusement in the towns of Southern Utah. Gathering the idea from a town in Kansas, eighteen bachelors of Mercur, Utah, made an appeal through the press for helpmates.

A Young Woman's Club at Mount Pleasant responded that its members were willing to love, honor, and, if necessary, obey the Mercur bachelors. At this juncture the girls of Mercur, at a social gathering, adopted resolutions advising the Mount Pleasant club to find husbands at home.

Word came yesterday from Mammoth, in Utah county, that a bachelors' organization there would endorse the Mount

The Flare of Electric Lights

(Copyright, 1912, Lillian Russell.)

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

HE blatant, dazzling civilization of this era has inflicted an additional peril in the floods of almost blinding light which electricity pours upon us in public places. I am sure much injury is inflicted upon the eyes by the whirling and wavering and incessantly changing public signs that one is obliged to gaze upon. The eye is most sympathetic to the general nervous condition and to the mental state. The secretions of the eye are modified, in quality and amount, by the state of the mind. The whole body is, of course, lowered in tone by the effect of grief, anger or revenge, but the eye is the first to show it and feel its effect. The eyes must be exercised, just as the body, in order to be in public health. Acuteness of vision is simply a matter of practice. The American Indian's keenness of vision is due to the training that he is obliged to undergo. Change of occupation and open air work often will restore the eyesight of one who has worked incessantly indoors and suffered in consequence.

The strongest and most dominating influences of life are received through the eye, and it is impossible to overestimate its importance. "Nature makes no mistakes, but men and women make a great many." Try to see right. To be blessed with an appreciation of beauty is pure gain. And the proportion in which people see beauty in simple things is a never-failing scale by which you can measure the quality of their culture and refinement. Self-interest blinds itself to all but personal things. That is why so many young people never know the power of their attractions until they get away from selfish associations.

Revery, imagination, and the greatest of all, sympathy, weave associations about natural objects and develop this sense of beauty. And those only half live who do not see it. To have eyes and see not, what a pity! With all of the beauties of nature before them, many self-centered, self-conscious persons go through life as if suffering from acute myopia. Remember, the amount of uplifting joy that shall enter into each life will be measured by the material or spiritual quality with which each sees humanity.

Lillian Russell

WELOTA K.—I am sorry, but I cannot print the formula for developing the bust on account of space. I shall send you the formulas if you wish them.

AGNES.—If you will write me again sending a self-addressed envelope, I shall send you the formula for an excellent skin food, and instructions for facial massage for eradicating wrinkles, and the formula for the Hungarian water for toning up the skin and making it firm.

M. J.—Are you sure your teeth are in good condition? Frequently it is the cause for sunken, hollow cheeks. I advise you to use a good skin food and facial massage. Leave a portion of the skin food on at night. This will fatten the cheeks. If your teeth are in poor condition, better have them attended to. If you will write me again, enclosing me a self-addressed, stamped envelope, I shall send you formulas for skin food and complete instructions for facial massage.

BELLE.—Gentle massage night and morning with spritz of camphor will reduce the bust. Any vigorous exercise that involves the muscles of the arms and chest will also help a great deal. It is a slow, tedious work and one must not expect results too quickly. I shall be glad to send you the formula for reducing the bust and also the shampoo for blonde hair.

ANXIOUS.—If you will send me a self-addressed and stamped envelope I shall be pleased to send you a slip which will be of benefit to you in overcoming the flabby condition of your neck and chin.

MARY K. E.—There is nothing which will remove the hair unless it be an electric needle. A good hand whitener is made by taking four ounces of rose water, one ounce of glycerine and the juice of a lemon.

ROSE.—No, I do not think that it is the food you eat that causes a bad complexion. It is usually caused from a sluggish circulation, indigestion, or anemia, and sometimes due merely to neglect. If this is the case, each night before retiring cleanse the face with a good cleansing cream, using plenty of it and rubbing it well into the pores until nearly all of it has disappeared, then taking off what is left of it with a soft cloth. Wash the face with warm water and plenty of good pure soap, using a complexion brush so as to get all the dirt out of the pores. Dry the face carefully and in the morning cleanse with the cold cream. Do not eat rich foods or greasy meats. If you will write me again, sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope, I shall send you the formulas for the green soap treatment for blackheads and an excellent cold cream.

T. M. H.—There is nothing that I know of to eradicate scars left by cold sores but time, as they generally fade away, not being deep.

E. P.—I should think from your description of the condition of your hair that it needs a good tonic. I think if you will go to a good hair-dresser and have your hair singed and then use the tonic that you will find that your hair will grow nicely.

TEXINE.—The vaseline will not weaken the eyes, but be extremely careful not to let the vaseline get into your eyes. Grease of all kinds irritates the eye. Merely rubbing it on the lids will not harm them. I think that a wire brush is injurious to the scalp, but a good stiff brush of bristles is just as effective in removing the tangles and is splendid for the scalp and hair.

SUBSCRIBER.—Thick lips often come from mouth breathing, but more often they come from biting them. If you bite your lips break yourself of that beauty-destroying habit. It not only makes them thick, but spoils the color as well as the texture. Send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope and I shall send you a formula for reducing the lips.

MISS R. P.—The cause of redness around your nose can be cured with a witchhazel lotion, made as follows: Two ounces of witchhazel, six ounces of distilled water, and one-half teaspoonful of glycerin. Bathe the nose frequently with the lotion, using absorbent cotton. I would advise you to abstain from drinking coffee entirely for three months. To soothe it is as stimulating as liquor is to others. Send a self-addressed and stamped envelope and your other questions, which are too personal to be published.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Miss Annie E.

Peck, conqueror of altitudes, got back from South America yesterday by the Lamport & Holt liner Vasari, after having unfurled and planted the yellow pennant of the Joan of Arc Suffrage League of this town on one of the five icy summits of Coropuna, in Southern Peru, estimated 22,500 feet above the sea level.

Miss Peck is a suffragist of the unflinching stripe, and a dozen women of the Joan of Arc League, all equipped with yellow pennants inscribed with the name of the league, waved them at her as the Vasari came alongside the pier in Brooklyn.

TWEITMOE AND OTHERS PLEAD NOT GUILTY

SHOUT THEIR ANSWER TO CHARGES

Roar of San Franciscan Is Heard at Far End of Corridor.

Dates for Trials of Accused Men to Be Set Tomorrow.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 5.—Their demurrers and preliminary motions overruled, Olaf Tveitmoe, Anton Johansson, E. A. Ciancy and J. E. Munsey, labor leaders indicted on charges of conspiracy to transport dynamite, entered pleas of not guilty today before Judge Olin Wellborn of the United States district court.

Judge Wellborn announced that he would fix the dates for the trials tomorrow. There were three indictments. Each of the accused men was called upon separately and as each bill was read to him and he was asked to plead he shouted:

"Not guilty!"

Tveitmoe's basso roar echoed to the farther end of the federal building corridor, nearly 100 yards in length. BRING ATTORNEY.

When the defendants appeared in court this morning they brought with them a fourth attorney, Bert Schlesinger, of San Francisco. Attorneys Davis, Harriman and George F. Appel submitted without argument the demurrers to the indictments and the motion of strike out that part of the first indictment returned by the federal grand jury which referred to the alleged fact that Orlie E. McManis had used the receipt in which dynamite was brought to California to convey presents back to his wife in Chicago.

Judge Wellborn glanced through the indictments and the documents offered by the attorneys for the defense and then announced that the demurrers were overruled and the motion to strike out denied.

Attorney Davis told the court that all the defendants were desirous of speedy trials and Judge Wellborn said he thought he could accommodate them when they appear before him tomorrow.

KEEP RECORDS CLEAR.

Attorney Davis said that the reason for submitting the demurrers without argument was that "it was better to go to trial on a poor indictment than on a good one." He said the motion and the demurrers were filed merely to keep the records clear.

Davis declared his clients would not accept any compromise in their cases, as had been rumored, in view of the general belief that the county grand jury, when it returned its inquiry late charges growing out of the McNamara case tomorrow was expected to return indictments for conspiracy against a number of union labor leaders. He declared the case would be fought to the end.

In preparation for the resumption of the grand jury's inquiry a large number of subpoenas were issued by attaches of the district attorney's office today. They were said to be for residents of Southern California. It was stated that subpoenas probably would be issued later for persons living at considerable distances from Los Angeles.

FUNERAL OF AUTO VICTIM TOMORROW

E. H. Lee Will Be Laid to Rest; Met Death at Dangerous Curve.

The funeral of E. H. Lee, a land broker who was instantly killed last Saturday night in the automobile accident at "death curve" on the Foothill boulevard, will be held tomorrow afternoon from the undertaking parlors of E. James Finney in Eighteenth street. Lee is survived by a widow, a daughter, Elizabeth, and a son, Robert, both minors.

Lee was on his way from Stockton to Oakland in company with R. K. Wilson, his partner, who lives at the Peralta apartment, W. M. Hunter of Stockton and Frank Sheridan of 715 Seventeenth street. In the fog Lee, who was driving, ran his machine into the curb at a sharp turn. The car was wrecked and the driver was crushed by the steering wheel. The deceased was 40 years old and had been engaged in business in this city for the last year.

MISS SELLERS BELIEVED TO BE IN SOUTH

MISS MAY SELLERS, missing girl, who may have gone to Los Angeles to become the bride of Noel Coates.

Mother of Girl Declares She Named Noel Coates as Man With Whom She Was Going to Leave

Two mothers in Oakland are extremely anxious over the continued absence of Miss May Sellers and Noel Coates, both of whom disappeared from the city last week, the girl, who is said to be not quite 15, telling Mrs. Lucy Sellers of the Palmer house that they were going to Los Angeles to be married.

Mrs. Franklin E. Coates, of 474 Jean street, said today that she did not believe her son had gone away with the girl, but she could offer no explanation for his absence, saying that he had never been away from home before under such circumstances and that while she did not know where he was, she hesitated to think that he had accompanied Miss Sellers.

"My daughter told me that she was going to go to Los Angeles with a young man named Noel Coates," said

TWELVE IN BOX IN SCHMITZ TRIAL

Case Goes Over Until Tomorrow for Exercise of Challenges.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5.—Twelve jurors subject to peremptory challenge occupied the box in Judge Wm. P. Lawrence's court at the noon recess today in the trial of former mayor Eugene B. Schmitz of San Francisco, accused of bribery. Schmitz is charged with having bribed Supervisor A. P. Wilson.

This is one of the so-called graft cases brought into court soon after the disaster of 1906. Edward Moffitt, a machinist, was cast as the twelfth juror, when counsel requested that the case go over until tomorrow for the exercise of peremptory challenges.

MEAT HELD UP TO INCREASE PRICES

Methods of Accused Packers Are Related by Witness in Chicago.

Telegrams Giving Margins for New England Territory Are Read.

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—Government Counsel James M. Sheehan introduced today telegrams received by the National Pacific company giving the margins for the New England territory, when the trial of the ten Chicago packers charged with criminal violation of the Sherman law was resumed.

Isador A. Snyder, assistant manager for the National Packing company, at Boston, identified the telegrams as having been sent by him from Boston over the company's private wire. The telegrams read:

"Boston, 8-20-10. Looks like seven minus in country this week Snyder."

"Boston, 8-24-10. Country working today minus 18. Have two bad ones Snyder."

Another message read to the jury referred to a "talked" estimate which Snyder received from the branch houses and wished to Chicago.

"What did you mean by 'talked' estimate?" asked Attorney Sheehan. "When a car was delayed I talked with the branch manager on the telephone and obtained a verbal agreement regarding its value," replied the witness. "It called that a 'talked' estimate."

Later a telegram was read in which Snyder asked advice about carrying over stock at certain points because the price offered was unsatisfactory. "What did you mean by carrying over the stock?"

"I wanted to know if we were to sacrifice the meat because of market conditions, or hold it over in the hope of getting a better price."

To show that the packers frequently curtailed shipments to certain points to increase prices and give stability to the market, several telegrams which witness Snyder sent to the Chicago Packing company at Chicago were read to the jury.

In the messages he complained that certain consignees threatened to buy from other firms unless shipments were increased.

CHILD SWALLOWS DOSE OF POISON

Heroic Treatment at Receiving Hospital Is Probably Successful.

Heroic treatment administered this forenoon at the receiving hospital by Dr. Steward Platt and Matron Hughes to Leslie Norman Roskie, a handsome 1-year-old child, probably saved him from an agonizing death from bichloride of mercury poisoning. While the final outcome of such cases is altogether problematic, in this instance the symptoms of the infant seem to indicate a recovery.

The child swallowed about two-thirds of the contents of a two-ounce bottle of bichloride tablets while his mother, Mrs. Otto Roskie, of San Pablo apartments, 2557 San Pablo avenue, was engaged in putting a dresser in order. The boy was playing around a table. His mother said the bottle of poison upon it, never dreaming that the infant could reach it from the floor. She went on with her work and while her back was turned the child secured the bottle and ate most of its contents.

When Mrs. Roskie discovered what had happened, instead of giving way to hysteria and becoming helpless, she met the emergency with presence of mind sufficient to think of an antidote. She gave the child the white of an egg and then hurried him to the receiving hospital. Steward Platt and Matron Hughes applied the stomach pump and the flushing that followed brought out the undigested poison and cleaned the stomach thoroughly. It remains for time to tell whether or not a sufficient quantity of the deadly stuff got beyond the reach of the treatment to kill the child.

SENATOR LA FOLLETTE IMPROVED IN HEALTH

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Senator La Follette was reported better today. He will rest for a few days, but has not indicated whether he will make a sea trip, although that is under consideration. He visited Providence hospital today to see his daughter, who also is improving.

Progressive Republican Senators who have been closely associated with Mr. La Follette said the question of a withdrawal in the presidential race has not come up.

PAYMENT DUE FOR MACADAMIZING ROAD

In a report to the Supervisors, County Surveyor P. A. Hazlitt stated that P. H. The balance of $11,564.25 was due at this time $12,817.75. The Ramsey County Company also has due the sum of $15,419 as a balance of 75 per cent payment for work completed on the Dublin road.

SLAYDEN FINDS NO SECOND FOR LAW

Attempt to Put Through Anti-Third Term Resolution Fails.

Another Along Same Lines Is Introduced by Higgins.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The Slayden anti-third term resolution was temporarily withdrawn in the house today because of the absence of a "second"—a detail of parliamentary procedure which took the house by surprise. When Slayden offered his resolution Representative Norris of Nebraska demanded a second for it, a formal way of securing a 40-minute debate.

To the surprise of many the roll call resulted 80 to 81, and having no second for his resolution, Slayden withdrew it. While the roll call was on there was in progress a continuous conference among the Republicans in which the regulars and progressives joined.

Another resolution along the same lines was introduced today by Representative Higgins of Conn. It proposes a constitutional amendment prohibiting the reelection of a president and vice-president to six years.

THREE SLAIN AND BODIES BURNED

Man, Wife and Girl Beaten to Death by Unknown Murderer.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Feb. 5.—Indications that Harvey Hurd, his wife and Elsie Adams, 16 years of age, were murdered before their home at Delaware was burned, were found in ruins of the residence today. Each of the victims had suffered frightful wounds about the head before they were cremated.

Disclosures made to the coroner's jury shed but little light on the murder. The jury discovered, it is reported, that both Mrs. Hurd and Miss Adams were in a delicate condition. The arrest of the young man who has called frequently at the Hurd home is hinted at, but the coroner's jury seemed to fear it looked convincing evidence. It failed to fix blame upon anyone.

Witnesses told of having seen a man run from the direction of the Hurd home last night.

GUGGENHEIM SUIT SET FOR SEVENTH

Courts Will Hear Arguments in Matter of Reviewing Divorce Case.

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—The suit of Mrs. George P. Guggenheim to set aside the decree of divorce which in 1901 separated her from her husband, William Guggenheim, of smaller fame, was set today for hearing February 7 in the circuit court.

For many months the complainant has sought to have the divorce proceedings reviewed. She asserts that the decree entered in Chicago eleven years ago is invalid because when the bill for divorce was filed she was not a bona fide resident of Illinois as was averred in the petition.

Since the decree of divorce was entered each of the parties to the suit married again. Mrs. Guggenheim is now married to a man named George P. Guggenheim, Jr.

SISTERS SAVE 30 FROM DEATH

Aged Women of St. Catherine's Home Carried Out of Blazing Structure.

Girls in Place Form Fire Drill Lines and March Out in Order.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5.—The Sisters of Mercy of St. Catherine's Home rescued thirty aged and infirm women in a fire which broke out at 7 o'clock this morning.

The blaze, the origin of which is unknown, started in the eastern wing on the ground floor and gained considerable headway before it was discovered. Most of the women who were in the ward, which is maintained at the home as a part of St. Mary's hospital, were asleep in their beds.

The sisters in the midst of the smoke and in the excitement caused among the 200 girls upstairs, rescued their charges in an orderly fashion under the supervision of the mother superior, Sister Columbo, and all were carried to places of safety. One woman only, Mrs. Mary Fitzgerald, was overcome by smoke and exhaustion and had to undergo treatment.

While the women were being saved in the lower floor the girls of the home formed themselves into regular fire drill order and left the building. The blaze was extinguished by the department without entailing great loss.

ACTOR FACES WHITE SLAVE CHARGE

Herbert Schafer Arrested in Oakland Hotel and Taken Across Bay.

Desire to Go on Stage Leads to Trouble for Two Girls and Companion.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5.—As a result of what the police believe was a deliberate plot to steal from her home a girl of tender years, Herbert Schafer was arrested in the Adams hotel in Oakland, at a late hour last night, and will be charged with a violation of the white slave law.

The girl in the case is Irene Casey, whom it is alleged, Schafer met at a dance three weeks ago. The man is an actor and Miss Casey, together with a companion, Mary Hoffman, was introduced to Schafer and Elmer O. Henderson. The girls expressed a desire to go on the stage and Detective Macphie and Taylor assert that a scheme was arranged whereby the two couples were to meet in Stockton.

Schafer and Miss Casey went to the Adams hotel and later, it is claimed, Schafer told the girl that she and her friend were to go to work at a dance hall at Stockton.

The police were notified and Henderson was arrested at the Empress hotel and charged with vagrancy. Schafer was found in Oakland and is expected that a more serious accusation will be placed against him. The two girls resided at an apartment house at Larkin and California streets.

Up for Discussion.

HAYWARD, Feb. 5.—The Hayward Chamber of Commerce has gone on record as condemning the P. A. Y. E. rebuilder's car on the Hayward line by the Oakland Traction company and as supporting the movement for the reduction of fares between this place and Oakland. During this stand was definitely taken by the chamber at the last meeting a war of words took place between those supporting R. Reid, who opposed the move and those in favor of it.

When Reid expressed his opinion several members immediately jumped to their feet and it was some time before order was again restored with the aid of the chamber's guards. The motion that the body recommend the reduction of fares and request that the uncomfortable P. A. Y. E. cars be taken off the line was made by H. R. Robinson. President William Angus appointed Robinson and Secretary J. E. Wain a committee to draw up resolutions to that effect.

Copies will be sent to the San Leandro Chamber of Commerce and San Leandro Board of Trustees which recently took a like stand. A deputation from the local chamber will wait upon officials of the Oakland Traction to see what can be done in the matter.

VALLEJO ORDERED TO PAY OFFICIAL

Must Settle Bill for Consultation
Over Tide Lands
Matter.

VALLEJO, Feb. 5.—The city of Vallejo must pay the bill of Attorney General U. S. Wain for legal services rendered in the tide land matter, regarding which he was recently consulted. It was thought by Vallejoites that the services would be free.

A delegation of Vallejoites, headed by Mayor Formey, went to Sacramento to discuss the matter with the governor, but the only satisfaction received was that the bill would not be more than $250.

The taxpayers are awaiting the action that will be taken on the bill by Auditor Hildreth.

It is said there was no official sanction for incurring the charges, but Hildreth will refuse to audit the claim.

VALLEJO CHAMPION.
VALLEJO, Feb. 5.—Miss Mary Green of Vallejo is the champion bread maker of the world. She has won the prize for the best bread at the cooking contest held here under the direction of the Vallejo Women's Improvement club.

Representatives of a flour company that assisted the club in conducting the affair have had similar contests in many places throughout the United States and they declare Miss Green's bread the finest they have seen.

VICTIM OF PIRATES
FOUND BY POLICE

Wholesale Robbery of Crew on Standard Oil Steamer Was Pirates' Plan.

RICHMOND, Feb. 5.—The local police yesterday successfully tracked the man who was slugged and robbed by pirates a few days ago, at the same time they shot and robbed the seaman Ed. Showman. He had been hiding out at the rock quarries on the bay coast north of the Standard Oil plant, too frightened to come into town.

His story verified that of Showman, in that a wholesale robbery had been planned by the pirates on the crew of the steamer George Loomis, but the same was frustrated by Showman's showing fight and the shooting which followed.

The man gave his name as John Stiel. He was beaten about the head and face and had been bound and gagged. He could give no description of his assailants.

The thieves only secured a few dollars from him as he spent most of his wages around the city.

The installation was conducted by Miss Ada Clarke of Niles, district deputy grand president. A dinner was served at the close of the evening.

POUNDMAN GETS INTO DEEP WATER

Vallejo Official Lassoes Dog
Tagged and Now Faces
Woman's Wrath.

VALLEJO, Feb. 5.—War is on here between a number of the citizens and owners of dogs and Poundmaster F. W. Derrick, who has recently taken office under the new pound ordinance. The latest cause of complaint arose on Saturday night, when Derrick issued a small dog which was following a well-known woman on the street.

The woman protested that the animal was properly tagged and should not be taken, but the poundman could not hear what she said, as it was so loud.

With the rope still around its neck the dog was placed on the seat of the pound wagon and Derrick made a start for the pound.

In the meantime a crowd had gathered. Sympathy was with the dog and when it made a dash for liberty one of the crowd cut the rope.

Poundmaster Derrick, it is declared, fixed on Charles B. Harding, foreman of the Hard and Lumber Co., as the man who had been the rope. A first arrested. Policeman O'Rafferty took the belligerents to the city jail. Later when the lady appeared and showed that her dog was properly tagged the poundman made an attempt to settle the matter, but Harding swore to a complaint for his arrest before Judge Fitzgerald.

The installation was conducted by Miss Ada Clarke of Niles, district deputy grand president. A dinner was served at the close of the evening.

MISS UNA CLAYTON, who scores a personal and artistic triumph at the Oakland Orpheum.

FOR YOUR HAIR
 Here Are Facts We Want You to Prove at Our Risk.

Marvelous as it may seem, Rexall "32" Hair Tonic has grown hair on heads that were once bald. Of course, it is understood that in none of these cases were the hair roots dead nor had the scalp taken on a glazed, shiny appearance. When the roots of the hair are entirely dead and the pores of the scalp glazed over, we do not believe that anything can restore their growth. When Rexall "32" Hair Tonic will do as above stated, it is not strange that we have such great faith in it, and that we claim it will prevent baldness when used in time. It acts scientifically, destroying the germ which is usually responsible for baldness. It penetrates to the roots of the hair, stimulating and nourishing them. It is a most pleasant toilet necessity, is delicately perfumed and will not gum nor permanently stain the hair. We want you to get a bottle of Rexall "32" Hair Tonic and use it as directed. If it does not relieve scalp irritation, remove dandruff, prevent the hair from falling out and promote an increased growth of hair and in every way give entire satisfaction, simply come back and tell us and without question or formality we will hand back to you every penny you paid us for it. We lend our endorsement to Rexall "32" Hair Tonic and sell it on this guarantee, because we believe it is the best hair tonic ever discovered. It comes in two sizes, price 50 cents and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain it only at the Owl Drug Co. stores in Oakland, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Sacramento, Portland, Seattle, Spokane.

MEXICO TO PAY PURDY $1,000,000

American Wins Fight for Indemnity; Blames Diaz for Suffering.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 5.—As a recompense for three years of suffering, privations and the seizure of about $150,000 of banking securities, Wallace D. Purdy of San Francisco shortly will receive a cold million in Uncle Sam's gold, paid by Mexico. This is the advice which was received by Purdy shortly before sailing on the steamship Preston for Port Barrios.

It was for Purdy that Secretary Knox demanded an indemnity from the Mexican government about eighteen months ago. Purdy formerly was the president and general manager of the Mexican International Savings Bank, in which he held stock to the value of $500,000 in United States currency, together with all other securities in mines and other enterprises. April, 1908, he was suddenly thrown into the Belen prison in Mexico City by Colonel Felix Diaz, a nephew of the former Mexican President, and the Chief of Police of Mexico City. Purdy was released on a cash bond of $150,000 and came to New Orleans. When he returned Purdy demanded a trial and the return of the securities. He was refused. Finally he granted a trial by the Supreme Court of Mexico, he impeached the testimony of several indicted Mexicans, incurred the displeasure of Colonel Diaz and was about to be made a prisoner when he escaped in the summer of 1908 and came to New Orleans penitentiary. He returned to Mexico City, where he was nearly arrested again, but escaped.

From that time began a series of wanderings up and down the Pacific coast of Mexico, in which the unfortunate couple were often without resources and on the verge of starvation. Finally they were assisted to reach San Francisco, where they prevailed on an attorney to take their case and the indemnity suit was brought in a regular manner.

Purdy says he was wounded and persecuted for four years and the only success from his misery came when the Diaz government fell and Colonel Diaz was forced into exile.

GOTHAM'S VIOLENT DEATHS ARE 2650

Suicides, Murders and Accidents on Increase in New York City.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—The annual report of the New York Board of Coroners shows that 2650 sudden deaths were reported to the coroner's office in 1911, the total being 200 greater than in 1910. Of these 2050 proved to be due to natural causes, leaving 2650 of a violent character. These included suicides, murders and accidents.

The homicides by shooting and assault were 193, an increase of 8. Of the 430 casualties in Manhattan in which death was charged to some other person, 90 were caused by automobiles, an increase of 20.

"The streets of this city are becoming more perilous than a battlefield," the report says, "and it is high time that some change in the laws governing the operation of automobiles be enacted."

Surface cars killed 72 persons, subway trains 10; elevators 68, and there were 430 suicides. Of those who died, 420 are still listed as "unknown dead."

SUFFRAGE TO BE TAUGHT FARMERS

North Dakota Agricultural College Offers Extension Courses.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Bulletin on after-dinner speaking, how to write humorous stories, woman suffrage, and how to judge a debate, are among the publications which the North Dakota Agricultural College offers for the education of the farmers and others in the state who care to enjoy the privileges of the extension service of the college. Experts of the bureau of education here are watching with interest the campaign of education which the North Dakota institution has instituted with the idea of giving the methods wider application in one they prove of value.

The extension service in publishing a free monthly magazine, sends out package libraries and organizes corn shows and educational exhibits.

TO DISCUSS THE RECALL
STANFORD UNIVERSITY. Feb. 5.—The recall question is to be the subject for the annual interclass debate which takes place here next Tuesday evening between the representatives of the freshmen and sophomore classes. The topic reads: "Resolved, That popular election judges should be subject to popular recall, constitutionally granted."

The Joys reign supreme at the Orpheum this week. Gone for the nonce are the pathos and sobs, except for an occasional bit of a tear just by way of contrast, and in their stead are mirth and laughter, song and dance, so that if there is one gloom hidden away anywhere in the big theater on Twelfth street it must be where he can't do a particle of harm.

For a bill of all-around good times it has been several moons since there has been another like it on the Orpheum boards. A general inspection of the program might lead the unwary to think that because there are no famous names on the bill there are no top-notch acts. After all, what does that matter when all the acts are of such a uniform goodness that they enjoy them all and wouldn't it if you could cut any of them out of the program.

HEADLINE HONORS.
 Una Clayton in a sketch and Juliet (?) share the headline honors this week, but that doesn't mean that they far outshine a number of other things. In fact if the truth were admitted Miss Clayton's sketch, "A Child Shall Lead Them," isn't the greatest thing imaginable in the way of sketches. The idea seems to be borrowed from Frances Hodgson Burnett's clever little story, "The Dawn of a Tomorrow," and tells the tale of a waif (Miss Clayton), who adopts an abandoned baby, and when she finds she can't care for it, passes it on to a rich and grouchy old man. Then, through the girl's efforts, she succeeds in reuniting the man with his son, whom he has driven out into the hard world, and finally all ends happily for her with the softening of the old skinflint.

Miss Clayton's name is down as author of the sketch. She falls down on her probabilities and on her technique, but has injected so much humor into the playlet and enacts the leading role so well that she makes of the number one of the most successful of variety acts. And after all, what is the use of criticising an act when it is a success, when it makes the audience laugh and cry and feel better. All the technique in the world won't compensate for a little heartiness and a touch of optimistic spirit.

LACKS PUNCH.
 As for Juliet (?), she is as much of a question mark as her name. She is young, attractive and has a vivid sense of characterization which she shows well in a series of impersonations of various sorts. Yet she just misses hitting the bull's eye of public favor for a lack of a something which can only be described as (?). For instance, she gives us an imitation of Jimmy Powers singing "How Did the Bird Know That?" from "Havana," which he gave out here a few months ago. Any one who saw that number will remember what a capital song and bit of fun that was. And Juliet (?) gets all the outward signs and tokens of the comedian in a truly remarkable manner. She even looks like Powers and catches his peculiar tricks of voice and manner.

You say to yourself, "That is dandy, but—The 'but' comes from a lack of 'punch' which, if it were present, would make the act one of the best ever, but since it is lacking it is simply good. As for this 'punch,' it is something which comes when least expected, and while Juliet (?) may not have it tonight, tomorrow night she may have. The mystery hiding behind the question mark following her name may hold the disguise of a girl who was not long since an amateur. Who, the mystery is explained, and the remedy only a question of time. Don't think Juliet (?) isn't good, for she is, especially in a Scotch characterization, but she might be excellent. You will enjoy her, certainly, but you, too, may wish that she were occupying the place at the very top of the bill instead of sharing it with another.

UNIFORMLY PLEASING.
 If all that has been said thus far tends to give the impression that there is much in the bill to criticize it is a mistaken impression. The truth of the matter is that the whole is so uniformly pleasing that the few let-downs from that standard attract attention more than they really should. The Parrotts, two gymnasts, open the bill with a rush and a laugh, the straight performer being a study of athletics who does his work of the most difficult character with ease and grace. The laugh begun by the comedy acrobat of the two gets a fresh impetus when Knox Wilson comes along. Wilson plays the saxophone in addition to being funny, and plays it so well that he brings down the house. His playing is really better than his comedy, although in the latter he has for an aid an animated grouse whose name Wilson evidently doesn't see fit to put in the program, but who should be there by all means. Anything funnier than the disagreeable face of that extra man would be hard to find.

When it comes to May Newman you who like that rag of the hour, the "rag," if you don't get wildly enthusiastic it will surely be a wonder. Ragging as it should be done is there in plenty, both by the girl and her partner, who can do other things as well as that ragging quite as well as that heaving slide.

CLOG CLOSING PROGRAM.
 Straight clog dancing closes the program, done by the Six Steppers, four young fellows and two girls, who certainly can dance. There is absolutely no attempt to do anything but the six do, for the variety of their steps are beyond comprehension, but they do it all with a precision that wins them the longest applause.

As for precision, it hardly describes the dancing of Frank A. Burt. In fact lack of precision would be a better description, for this man seems to have no bones and bends and twists in a way to give you the Jim-Jams. The dancing is incidental to a lot of low comedy that is perpetrated by Burt and his partner, Hawthorne, which gets the audience into convulsions of mirth. If amount of applause setted the matter they really would be the headline of the bill, for it certainly does get the noisy approbation. Reynolds and Donegan in a capital skating act are the only holdovers, but are well worth seeing again.

THUG FATALLY SHOTS
ARRESTING POLICEMAN

RIVERSIDE, Feb. 5.—Dell McIntyre, a policeman at Arlington station, this city, was shot and fatally wounded by a thug whom he was attempting to arrest.

McIntyre had searched his prisoner, but failed to find any firearms on him. The prisoner broke away from him, and, on being pursued, shot McIntyre through the stomach, the bullet lodging in the policeman's vertebral column, as was ascertained by a post-mortem examination. The entire county all day in an effort to locate him.

The thug carried burglar's tools and a union engineer's card.

TAFT LIES IN INDIAN RAY

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 5.—President Taft has suspended Commissioner of Indian Affairs Valentine's recent order which prohibited the wearing of Headdress and regalia and religious garb at school exercises in the Indian schools. The president ordered Valentine's action held up until a hearing could be given.

TAFT IS FAVORITE IN STRAW BALLOT

Gets as Many Votes in Northern Counties as Roosevelt and La Follette.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 5.—Taft 128, Roosevelt 70, La Follette 45.

President Taft is a strong favorite for re-nomination in this section of the state, according to the results of the straw ballot taken by the Union in 16 counties north and east of Sacramento. All the counties are in the congressional districts of Representatives Kent and Baker.

Five hundred cards were sent out by the Union January 29 to 500 registered republican voters chosen at random from the official printed poll lists. A trifle more than half the cards were returned. The result may be taken as fairly indicative of the inclinations of the whole number. Not a single card was sent in for any candidate except Taft, Roosevelt and La Follette. Cummins was not mentioned.

Taft has exactly as many votes, 128 as Roosevelt and La Follette combined. In the first few days Roosevelt had as many as 128 votes, but the latter pulled up a bit at the end.

Few second choices were mentioned. Of the La Follette voters there were two second choices, one for Justice Hughes and one for Roosevelt. Three Roosevelt voters had second choices, one naming Taft and two La Follette. Only two Taft men bothered about second choices. One will be satisfied with Roosevelt and the other says he will vote for Harmon if Taft is not named.

Roosevelt is much more popular than the Wisconsin machine is as evident that even if the La Follette and Roosevelt votes are combined on one candidate Taft will have at least an even show in the counties polled. And if this is true of the counties in the Kent and Baker districts Taft should carry the state easily, for he is admittedly much the stronger in the bay counties with their heavy vote, and in some other sections, notably the orange district of the south.

CREW SAVED FROM FLAMING VESSEL

S. O. S. Flashes Warning and Aid Is Sent to Sinking Ship.

NORFOLK, Va., Feb. 5.—The British steamer Consols, cotton-laden from Galveston, Hamburg, flameswapt in a long, futile race to sink early yesterday 40 miles south of Cape Henry. Her crew of 34 men, refugees on the British steamer Childa Eden, were landed at Newport News.

The rescue was another triumph for inter-communication among ocean craft, for the Childa Eden, from Savannah for Danish ports, picked up the wireless call for help from the imperiled crew on the Consols and rushed to her assistance.

The battleship New Jersey, on her way north from the Guantanamo drill grounds, also heard the call. The New Jersey sent the first word to shore of the rescue of the men. The revenue cutter Onondaga stood by the burning steamer until the flames had subsided, returned to Hampton Roads yesterday.

The schooner Frank M. Lowe, on fire, and at the mercy of a northwest gale, was hoisted aboard the water's edge last night. The crew took to the boats and were picked up at daylight by the steamer Sewanee and brought ashore. Two of the crew were unconscious and undoubtedly would have died in a short time. The other members of the crew suffered terribly from exposure.

REVOLVERS DRAWN IN GIPSY SMITH PARADE

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 5.—Police, with drawn revolvers, were called into action yesterday, when Evangelist Gipsy Smith's parade of 10,000 churchmen clashed with opposition speakers in Los Angeles street.

PARACHUTE FAILS; INVENTOR KILLED

Ladies' Tailor Falls to Death From Eiffel Tower in Paris.

PARIS, Feb. 5.—Francis Reichelt, aged 35, a ladies' tailor, was instantly killed when a parachute which he had invented failed to work as he jumped from a stage of the Eiffel tower, nearly 200 feet from the ground.

Reichelt had been working for two years on his invention, which he intended for use by aviators when aeroplanes began to tumble because of accidents.

The parachute was made of silk, and was attached to the back like a soldier's knapsack. It weighed less than twenty pounds.

Reichelt ascended to the first stage of the tower, which is about 137 feet from the ground. He placed a table near the edge facing the Seine, and got ready for the jump, while a crowd of reporters and cinematographers awaited him on the ground. Reichelt jumped out from the table with the parachute on his back. For a second it seemed as if the parachute was about to open in accordance with the theory of the inventor, but it shrunk together again, and he fell like a stone, striking the ground less than four feet.

He was picked up dead. His legs and spinal column were broken, and his body made a hole several inches deep in the frozen ground.

Despite the accident, Aviator Guillaume announces that he will test a parachute on February 18 by ascending 800 feet in an aeroplane and then jumping off.

By another coincidence the death is announced of Captain Legamuet, an army aviator, who fell 130 feet at Versailles on Saturday while making a flight at the training school, there.

'RACE SUICIDE' HOTEL TO BE 'THE ROOSEVELT'

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—Can you imagine it? Family hotel! Catering only to bachelor men, bachelors with married patrons—girls and children barred. And Named—Roosevelt! Yet such a race suicide hotel, named Colonel Roosevelt, is to be built in Chicago.

J. L. McKeever, a real estate broker and ardent admirer of the Colonel, is to build the bachelors' hotel and thereby brave the wrath of the former President. It is to be six stories high, covering 200 by 165 feet of ground space, and will cost $700,000. It will be a novel institution in that it will combine club with hotel accommodations and will seek patronage among unmarried men and women and married people without children. According to present plans, children will be barred.

HENRY W. SAVAGE HERE ON WAY 'ROUND WORLD

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5.—Henry W. Savage, the theatrical producer, arrived here yesterday from the South on the first leg of his journey around the world. Savage, who has just test a passenger on the steamer Cleveland when it sailed on Wednesday, spent his time in the South in conference with Gus Luder, the composer, who is finishing the score of an opera that he is writing in collaboration with Avery Hopwood for the New York manager.

One of the main purposes of the world tour of Savage is to stop long enough in the Orient to amass local color for his big Japanese musical comedy, "The Mikado."

GOETHALS FAVORS TOLLS FOR CANAL

Chief Engineer to Urge Matter on President and Goes to Washington.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Colonel George W. Goethals, chief engineer in charge of the building of the Panama canal and chairman of the Isthmian Canal Commission, who arrived here yesterday from Colon, reiterated his belief that the canal would be opened by January 1, 1915.

Colonel Goethals said he was in favor of tolls for shipping through the canal and insisted that he would bring the matter to the attention of the President.

Colonel Goethals went at once to Washington.

LUXURY-LOVING PAIR STRIP HOUSE CLEAN

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—Burglars who leisurely smoked and drank beer at work Saturday night swept almost clean the home of Mrs. Grace L. Wells, the wealthy widow of a San Francisco attorney, at 4941 Michigan avenue.

In making their escape from the ransacked dwelling, the police believe, the thieves used an automobile. With them in the machine they took wearing apparel and jewelry valued at $5000 and did not leave a single clue.

Mrs. Wells is the widow of G. F. Wells, a San Francisco attorney, who died about a year ago. Her sister, Mrs. Charles Gordon, whom she was to visit in March, lives at 1534 Greenwich street, San Francisco.
